

August 13, 2012

It gives me great pleasure to congratulate the International Museum of Muslim Cultures on the successful launch of the Legacy of Timbuktu Exhibition. With the many networking opportunities and informational programming you offer it is no wonder your organization has seen such great achievements.

It is such an honor to receive remarkable history and its connections to modern America here in Fort Worth and will no doubt change the way Africa's history has been told. The City of Fort Worth prides itself on welcoming diverse and multicultural exhibits into our community. We are committed to bringing together a diverse community of people by highlighting the positive contributions that Africans made to the world.

Congratulations again on the exhibition and we look forward to your continued success.

Sincerely,

Betsy Price
Mayor
